

Kansas Association of Teacher Educators

The Advocate (Spring/Summer 2026)

The Advocate provides a publication forum for teacher-educators and others who have a stake in teacher education. The Advocate is a peer-reviewed journal published through New Prairie Press at Kansas State University. The Advocate's editors work with support of an editorial board and board of reviewers composed of selected academics in the area of Teacher Education. The board has the opportunity to monitor publication, make suggestions and recommend changes to the journal and report to the Association of Teacher Educators-Kansas Board of Administration. Although primarily a research journal, other forms of writing such as position papers, editorials, literature reviews, best practices, new technology, and reports from the field are welcome submissions. If you are interested in submitting a manuscript for consideration, please visit us at: The Advocate. Please see the Association of Teacher Educators-Kansas web-site at <https://atekan.weebly.com/> for more information regarding the work of our organization. Membership in the organization is $20.00 per academic year and provides you with not only membership, but the opportunity to submit your manuscripts to The Advocate, which is published twice a year. To join ATE-K, please see: ATE-K Membership at the above linked website. We hope you find this issue useful and thought provoking.

Members of The Advocate Editorial Board include:

Dr. Gary Andersen, Ft. Hays State University (Co-Editor)

Dr. Alan English, Bethany College (Co-Editor)

Dr. Jill Gonzales-Bravo, Mid-America Nazarene University, Executive Director of ATE-K

Dr. Amanda Lickteig, Kansas State University, President of ATE-K
